Across Chinese Cities 2018

The third chapter of the Across Chinese Cities program explores approaches to planning linked to the development of 'communities' as mechanisms that create new systems of social, economic and spatial belonging.

Organized in six thematic frameworks – Working Paradigms / The Domestic Sphere / The Consumer Revolution / Culture, Learning & Care / Leisure & Playtime / Mobility – the selected case studies draw upon integrated design strategies leveraging the “emancipating potentialities of commoning” (Stavros Stavrides, The City as Commons) and thus novel interrelated norms of co-dependence, participation and inclusivity. From tiered urban contexts, historic city centres to urban villages and rural areas across different Chinese regions, these projects are predicated on co-actualized protocols of governance on the micro-scale.

The ACC 2018 Guest City, Suzhou chapter features studies on community development centred around the Pingjiang Road Preservation and Regeneration Plan, and explores the city's unique context to enrich its ecological, economic and social condition.
