Living Lab

Lara Campos S·Biotica collective
Pangaia Grado Zero R&D center

Lara Campos is the material designer and textile artist co-founder of the S·Biotica collective of Barcelona, who will converse with Pangaia Grado Zero, an international R&D centre based in Italy. The seminar opens an interdisciplinary dialogue on the role of research and experimentation on materials for fashion in a sustainable and human-nature centred perspective. Participants are invited to reflect on how, thanks to the use of plant and organic materials, nature becomes an active part of the fashion design process.
