General objective 6: A NEW PUSH FOR EUROPEAN DEMOCRACY

When democracy is being challenged, science helps to develop better strategies and support citizens' involvement, social inclusion and equalities in Europe. Political distrust, polarizing discourses, lower electoral participation and populist narratives call for a strengthened role of R&I to overcome these difficulties.

DG Research and Innovation aims to contribute to the development of policies and innovations that expand political participation and civil society engagement, enhance accountability and legitimacy, protect rights, promote equalities and inclusion and help to strengthen trust in democratic institutions.

Co-creation is an innovative and efficient approach to join-up forces across the EU institutions and Members States to address together the key European challenges .

#DG Research & Innovation

During the strategic planning period, the research and innovation projects supported by Horizon Europe will deliver new knowledge and solutions to tackle political extremism and polarisation by strengthening democratic participation and active citizenship, fostering awareness and exercise of democratic rights, and understanding the role of media in fostering or inhibiting political dialogue. DG Research and Innovation will contribute to the Democracy Action Plan and strengthen the role of R&I in fighting disinformation and research and innovation aspects will be included to the Commission's report on the impact of demographic change, focusing on active aging, quality of life, healthcare and healthcare systems.

The DG will also broadly involve citizens and stakeholders in co-designing and co-creating of policies and measures and thus strengthen a common ownership of the policy and promote common R&I values.

Co-creation can increase the focus and integration of action on future policy goals that are meaningful for society (e.g. climate change, clean water, clean air, healthy and sustainable food systems, healthy oceans, a thriving bioeconomy). Horizon Europe has been co-created from the earliest phase together with several Commission departments, Member States, experts, stakeholders and citizens. The programme will be implemented through its Strategic Planning in the same co-creation spirit.

In line with Commission's approach to strengthen gender aspects of the European policies, the foreseen R&I actions will be directed towards the efficient implementation of Horizon Europe's gender equality, supporting an inclusive and sustainable institutional change as
