

LEARNING FROM WATER

an operational analysis

lectures by associate professor Melisa Pesoa-Marcilla and PhD student Carolina Fiallo Department of Urbanism, Territory and Landscape (DUTP) of the Barcelona School of Architecture (UPC)

organised by Amina Chouairi

Territory as a subject of rights recognises its capacity to enter into dialogue with life in its various expressions. These expressions should be analysed in depth to understand their intrinsic patterns and ultimately lead to a responsible project. The case of water, in its agential role, allows us to delineate the territory through its experiences, intertwined with relevant urban processes and transformations, which are crucial for a comprehensive ecological understanding that connects life.
